Asgard's Drihten once looked out

Piae Cantiones

1. As-gard's Drihten once looked out, on the feast of yule-tide
2. Hi-ther Carl and Come with me If thou know-srik tell-ing when all wights were gathered round warm a-bout the fire-side, Yon-dar thrall now who is he where and what his dwell-ing?

"Bright-ly shone the moon that night though the frost was ere-el lord he lives a good leagu here ut-der neath the mountain when a poor thrall came in sighr-gath' ring win-ter fu- - el Right a- gainst the for-eor tene 'Twixt the field and fou- ntainverse 3. Bring me flesh and bring me wine

Bring me pine logs hitther
Thou and I will see him dine
When we bear them thither
Carl and Wanderer they went Forth they fared together
Through the winter's wild lament
And the bitter weather verse 4. "Lord the light grows dimmer now,

And the wind blows stronger,
Fails my heart, I know not how I can go no longer."

"Mark my footsteps goodly Carl Tread thou in them boldly
Thou shalt find the winter's rage Freeze thy heart less coldly."

verse 5 In the Wand'rer's steps he trod

Where the snow lay dinted
Warmth was in the very sod
Which Woden had printed
Therefore Heathen folk be sure Wealth or rank possessing Ye who now will bless the poor
Shall yourselves find blessing.
